

Precept Upon Precept Inductive Bible Study Matthew The Christ, The Son of The Living God (chapters 14 - 28) --
When Jesus came, did people receive Him as the promised Messiah? What did they say about His miracles and His teaching? What caused them to call for His crucifixion? He says He's coming back. If He came today, would people recognize Him? As you study Matthew, you'll gain a deeper understanding of the resurrection and its power in your life. Then take up the challenge to share the gospel with others.

The Gospel of Matthew – written by Matthew, an apostle of Jesus Christ. What did he have to say? Is it relevant today? This 8 weeks study is for those who desire to study their Bible – men, women, or students. Jesus said in Matthew, “Follow Me.” Can you follow Him without knowing the Word?

David Arthur, Vice President of Teaching and Training of Precept Ministries, came to Precept after serving at Generous Giving as a vice president and participated in one-on-one mentoring of pastors and church leaders who seek to establish cultures of generosity in their congregations. He holds a bachelor's degree from Covenant College and a master's in theology from Reformed Theological Seminary.

David Arthur will be teaching through DVD.

There are three steps to Inductive Bible Study:

Observation - Specially designed skills for busy lives in an age of speed, noise and endless distractions, the inductive study method will help you slow down to focus on God's Word, and see what it really says.

Interpretation - Since the Bible is its own best interpreter, the more accurate your observation, the greater will be your understanding of God's Word.

Application - The Creator and Author of life has shown us how to live a satisfying, eternally significant life. Intentional, disciplined observation and interpretation lead you to the profoundly applicable Truth of the Bible.
